FOREWORD BY SIR STANLEY ROUS, CBE

Reference books are an integral part of the literature of football.

All interested in association football, legislators, directors, managers, players and fans alike, have to check with a record book against their own memory at some time or the other.

For many years Wisden has held pride of place among the many fine books annually written for and about cricket. But, worthy though many of the football annuals undoubtedly are, I do not remember seeing a book of similar quality compiled about Association Football. I believe that Rothmans Football Yearbook could fill this gap in football literature each year.

In the vast breadth of world football, in which I have the honour of being President of FIFA, the organization administering to its needs, there is room for a book of this kind which I hope will eventually have a world-wide circulation in many languages.

History is being recorded daily in world football. If this book can recapture even part of the annual statistical chronicle then it, and the authors, will have achieved something worth while.

STANLEY ROUS
President FIFA

FOREWORD BY ROTHMANS OF PALL MALL

Rothmans of Pall Mall, founded in 1890, the year that Blackburn Rovers beat Nottingham 3 1 to win the F.A. Cup, are delighted to bring you the first edition of the Rothmans Football Yearbook. We hope it will bring you many hours of pleasure.

Followers of cricket, tennis and other major sports will know of the help and assistance given by Rothmans to these games in many of the 160 countries where Rothmans cigarettes are on sale.

It seems fitting that Rothmans – makers of cigarettes throughout the world – should now be associated with the world's most widespread and popular sport.

Wherever lovers of soccer gather, in the home, in the pub, in the supporters' club, or on the coach to the away match, there are always arguments about who beat whom, when, where and by how many. Until the publication of this book, soccer fans have had no definitive work of reference to settle these friendly disputes and we are sure that this book will become as important to football as Wisden is to cricket. The compilers, Tony Williams and Roy Peskett, are to be congratulated on their determined efforts to turn this great idea into reality.

The facts and statistics of a game are not dry bones to be left mouldering . . . they are things that jog the memory. A simple score-line can recall anxious relegation battles . . . unnerving cup ties . . . momentous national occasions at Wembley . . . the roar of a 134,000 crowd at Hampden Park . . . or perhaps a dour Midland League struggle.

We hope that with this book the memories will stay very much alive and that the reader will be able to recreate the great moments of his life – as either a player or spectator.

And that it will settle all your arguments of past seasons' games and personalities – in your favour, of course.

ROTHMANS OF PALL MALL

Such is the interest in football at the present time that a book of statistics such as this Rothmans Football Yearbook will satisfy a long felt need, almost a craving, by all football-loving people. When any few supporters gather together reminiscences abound and invariably questions are asked. I firmly believe that in this book will be found the answers to almost all those questions and I wish the Yearbook all the success that the enterprise deserves.

DENIS FOLLOWS
Secretary, The Football Association

A vast proportion of the countless millions who follow Association Football all over the world are collectors of literature connected with the game, particularly of books detailing records and results.

I feel sure that the Rothmans Football Yearbook, with its thousands of facts and records, can fulfil the need, long awaited, for what is intended to be a most comprehensive book on football.

DR. ANDREW STEPHEN
Chairman, The Football Association

I am delighted to hear that the Rothmans Football Yearbook is to contain nearly 1,000 pages of soccer information.

I am sure that the contents will be exciting and of great interest to football fans of all ages.

LEN SHIPMAN, M.B.E.
President, Football League

I look forward to reading the Rothmans Football Yearbook and hope that it will be very successful.

ALAN HARDAKER
Secretary, Football League

EDITORIAL NOTE

Association Football has long needed an authoritative and fully comprehensive reference book. So it is particularly pleasing to be able to say with confidence that the Rothmans Football Yearbook answers that need.

Each year the book will present a complete factual round-up of the previous season's football at all levels, while full records of the game since its conception in Britain will always be included.

Whether you are a professional club manager or secretary checking on a player who is for sale, or an ordinary football fan wanting to settle an argument with a friend, we are sure that the answer will be in 'the Yearbook'.

Never before has such a complete football book been published, and never before has such a comprehensive players section been compiled—through the book it is now possible to trace League professionals through their careers noting the number of League appearances and goals they have recorded for their different clubs.

We have also included a record of every League, F.A. Cup, and Football League Cup match played by our senior clubs last season, where you can check on all the teams, scorers and attendances.

Every grade of British football has been included from schoolboys to the World Cup, Sunday football to European competitions, and from the Channel Islands to the Football League. We hope no section of the game has been left out, and feel sure that the fixture section at the back of the book, designed to give an exciting and concise week by week preview of the season, will be of particular use to everyone connected with the game.

We are deeply indebted to Rothmans of Pall Mall not only for having the vision to sponsor this work but also for the considerable help and enthusiastic support we have received from the company, who are such generous and objective supporters of sport in general.

The fact that a book containing about a thousand pages of intricate facts and records has been produced so quickly and so well, reflects great credit to the publisher and the printer, and we would like to thank them for putting our ideas into reality so efficiently.

If as much pleasure is derived from reading the Rothmans Football Yearbook as we have enjoyed while compiling it, then everybody's efforts will have been worth while.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON 1969–70

It was a memorable season. Even if, in the interests of Sir Alf Ramsey and his World Cup squad, it was cut to a record shortening.

Well, when last did we know the First Division champions, and have the Cup Final by April 11th! True, a drawn Cup Final between Chelsea and Leeds United, to provide the first replay at that stage for fifty years, complicated matters.

The second game, at Old Trafford, Manchester, also went into extra time, before Webb, a product of the age where every full back is expected to be a goal-scoring sprinter, settled matters and gave Chelsea their first ever F.A. Cup.

To say that Leeds United were unlucky in their efforts to clock up the fabulous treble of League, F.A. Cup and European Cup, was to understate the case. But, whatever the records show, they had a fantastic season. I suppose the only tangible rewards were that Manager, Don Revie, and captain, Billy Bremner, received the highest class awards.

For the rest it was sympathy, and a summer in which to lick their wounds and provide more planning for the restless brain of the greatest manager of the decade, Don Revie. What an extraordinary run the club have had under him. In 1967–68 they won both the Football League and Fairs Cups; the following season were League champions. And last season they were beaten finalists in the F.A. Cup; semi-finalists in the European Cup and runners-up to Everton in Division One.

Mind you, over at Maine Road, they are quite proud of Manchester City's recent record:

1965–66, Champions, Division Two
1967–68, Champions, Division One
1968–69, F.A. Cup Winners
1969–70, Winners of Football League and Cup Winners Cups

Which, it may be argued, puts Manchester City into the class of the trophy-collecting Arsenal side of the 'thirties.

The present-day Arsenal team suffers badly by comparison to that great combination, formed by Herbert Chapman, and nurtured by George Allison. Yet, they did win something last season, triumphing in two vastly exciting legs of the Fairs Cup against Anderlecht, the crack Belgian side.

In Brussels, Arsenal, three down, looked unlikely to make up that deficit a week later at Highbury, until the young substitute, Kennedy, sent on for the equally youthful Charlie George, pulled a goal back. How valuable that effort was to prove. In the return Arsenal had the 51,612 crowd on their feet as first Kelly reduced the aggregate total. Then Radford brought the scores level, finally for Jon Sammels to tip them ahead.

Everton's performance in winning the League title was, unfortunately, overshadowed by the Leeds' efforts. Yet it was a first class, and eminently worthy performance. Not long before Christmas Everton led the table by eight points. Only to be passed by Leeds. However, Ball, Labone and Co. regained the initiative and sailed home nine points clear of Leeds.

Chelsea, who pipped Derby County for third place, would have qualified for the Fairs Cup if they had not won the F.A. Cup.

Mention of the Leeds saga inevitably brings us to Celtic and Jock Stein, both of whom finished just short of an astonishing season. Celtic started by winning the Scottish League Cup, then took the major league title in their stride. They unexpectedly faltered in the Final of the Scottish Cup, Aberdeen bringing off a highly satisfactory win. But among the loyalists this was taken as a mere break in the surge to fill up the boardroom at Celtic Park with all the trophies available. After blighting the hopes of Leeds in the semi-final of the European Cup, Celtic had no answer to the purpose and power of the Dutch champions, Feyenoord. So Celtic had to settle for two titles and an M.B.E. for their manager.

The season was made even more memorable when Tottenham and West Ham got together to settle the first-ever £200,000 transfer deal involving British players. Martin Peters crossed from East to North London for the larger proportion of the fee, Jimmy Greaves—himself not so long ago having figured in two six-figure deals—being thrown in as 'makeweight'. Jimmy, not required by Ramsey for the World Cup squad, gained compensation by driving a Ford Escort at breakneck speed between Wembley and the Azteca Stadium, Mexico City. He would probably try a wry grin if anybody told him his sixth place in the Daily Mirror World Cup Rally was better than England's overall eighth place in the soccer festival!

England's pattern of preparing for the defence of their World Cup was plain to see from the first game in the new season. As is now the established custom, with the Home International Tournament crammed into eight days in April, foreign opposition occupied matters until the soccer 'fratricide' started. In the nine games only three goals were given away, but in the first seven, only nine goals were scored. Not until the slight spree in South America, when six were netted against Colombia and Ecuador, did England really realise they had any forwards! Including substitutes, upon whom he was to call regularly during the Cup itself, Ramsey tested out 26 players. Finally, after naming the 28 he was to take to Mexico (McNab came in for Reaney, out with a broken leg, after Madeley had turned down the trip) Ramsey settled for this 22 to defend the little gold pot:

Banks (Stoke C.), Bonetti (Chelsea), Stepney (Manchester U.), Newton (Blackburn R.), Cooper (Leeds U.), Wright (Everton), Hughes (Liverpool), Mullery (Tottenham H.), J. Charlton (Manchester U.), Moore (West Ham U.), Labone (Everton), Stiles (Manchester U.), Hunter (Leeds U.), Lee (Manchester C.), Bell (Manchester C.), R. Charlton (Manchester U.), Hurst (West Ham U.), Peters (Tottenham H.), Ball (Everton), Astle (W.B.A.), Osgood (Chelsea), Allan Clarke (Leeds U.).

Elsewhere in the book you will find details of the unsuccessful saga.

Back to the League. The slight downward trend of the Football League gates, which caused a drop in the figures at the end of 1968–69 season, was checked, and the official figures released by the Football League showed a rise. The total was 29,600,972, as against the previous season's total of 29,521,555. Altogether it was a satisfactory picture.

In addition to the increase in League watching, the Football League Cup set a new record (up from 2,064,647 to 2,299,819) while many hundreds of thousands watched the games between English and Continental teams in the various European competitions. There were also huge regular followings for ITV's 'On the Ball' and The Big Match', and BBC's 'Match of Day'.

Once again Manchester United topped the million through their turnstiles at Old Trafford, and so did the champions, Everton, for the first time in seven years.

Incidentally, nearly 180,000 people watched the two European Cup semi-finals between Celtic and Leeds United, 134,000 of them at Hampden Park.

Now the Football League fans will, in many cases, have to pay more to stand on the terraces this winter. At the Football League Annual General Meeting it was decided to stabilise the minimum admission charge at all Football League grounds at six shillings. Conversely, quite a number of clubs have reduced the charges for stand season tickets.

From the excitement and glamour of trophy-winning to the teams at the other end of the scale. Spare a thought for some of the famous names of the past who have hit a bad patch—Sheffield Wednesday and Sunderland relegated from Division One to Two; Preston North End and Aston Villa go down to Division Three, both for the first time. And famous Bradford Park Avenue voted out of Division Four because of the insistent demands of Cambridge United for recognition.

Villa have of course dropped from Division One to Division Three in rapid succession. After the vast amount of money spent on rebuilding the club, success in the future will be all the sweeter. But whatever Villa's lapses and their appalling playing record, they have never lost support. Their average gates of 27,345 were not only higher than the previous season, but were also the best recorded in Division Two!

The 'miracle' story of Division One was that of Crystal Palace, playing their first season in Division One. With their programme of 42 games gone, after they had hovered on or near the bottom all season, Palace awaited their fate. Sheffield Wednesday only had to defeat Manchester City at home in order to stay up, and send Palace down. But they lost 2 1, and the champagne flowed at Selhurst Park. Now with the two Chelsea strikers, Bobby Tambling and Alan Birchenall in the line, a less nerve-wracking season is expected.

Back, after fourteen years in Division Two, go Huddersfield Town, who led most of the way. Blackpool, captained by that very likeable ex-England player Jimmy Armfield, held on to regain the place they lost only three seasons previously. At one time it looked as if Swindon Town would pop into second place, but in the end they failed by three points. Still, they gained compensation by winning the Anglo-Italian Competition instituted at the end of the season. After many unruly scenes during the home and away games in England and Italy, the final itself in Naples was abandoned ten minutes from time, when the local 'sportsmen' decided that their team, three down, no longer had any chance of winning.

For most of the time it was a foregone conclusion that Orient and Luton Town would gain promotion from Division Three, and so it proved. They are both expected to play with credit in the higher division. If the move to get three-up and three-down between these two divisions had been achieved at the League Annual General Meeting, Bristol Rovers would have accompanied them. But they must still wait on.

Fulham came with a late run and must stand a great chance in this season's promotion race, in which they will have new opponents in Chesterfield, Wrexham, Swansea City and Port Vale, who gained promotion from Division Four.

P.S. You can't keep the little fellow out of the news! Apart from the fact that he was the only man to be sent off during the Home International Tournament, George Best clocked up the best individual scoring feat. Resuming after serving a month's suspension, Best scored six goals for Manchester United in an F.A. cup-tie at Northampton.

Since the early days of the 'Home' International Tournament football enthusiasts have enjoyed themselves picking 'Great Britain XI's'. There is no doubt that a side combining the talents of the four countries would hold its own in any competition, and the Rothmans Golden Boots Award must surely be accepted as the highest accolade a British player can receive.

One glance at the famous journalists who joined the compilers on the panel shows the wealth of knowledge and experience that is behind the team selection:

Peter Batt, Sun
Frank Butler, News of the World
David Coleman, B.B.C.
Brian Glanville, Sunday Times
Geoffrey Green, The Times
Desmond Hackett, Daily Express
Jimmy Hill, London Weekend T.V.
Alan Hoby, Sunday Express
Alan Hughes, Goal
Brian James, Daily Mail
Ken Jones, Daily Mirror
Bernard Joy, Evening Standard
Bob Oxby, Daily Telegraph
Frank McGee, Sunday Mirror
Hugh McIlvanney, Observer
David Miller, Sunday Telegraph
Roy Peskett, Rothmans Football Yearbook
Laurie Pignon, Daily Sketch
Vic Railton, Evening News
Donald Saunders, Daily Telegraph
Maurice Smith, People
Tony Williams, Rothmans Football Yearbook

The eleven players were asked for in 4-2-4 formation as the talent available was obviously capable of a positive approach to any match without having to worry about too many defensive theories. There's no doubt that this decision limited the number of votes given to Bobby Charlton and Martin Peters who thrive on the 4-4-2 set up with England. In fact the players who also received votes but did not manage a place in the team were:

Martin Peters	(9)	Johnny Giles	(2)	Colin Stein	(1)
Billy McNeill	(7)	Alan Mullery	(2)	Bob McNab	(1)
Francis Lee	(6)	Brian Labone	(2)	Bobby Moncur	(1)
Terry Hennessy	(5)	Keith Newton	(2)	Peter Houseman	(1)
Paul Reaney	(5)	Tommy Gemmell	(2)	Allan Clarke	(1)
Bobby Charlton	(3)	Rod Thomas	(1)	Ralph Coates	(1)
Peter Osgood	(3)	Tommy Wright	(1)	John Greig	(1)

The selected wingmen, Jimmy Johnstone and George Best, would be able to help out in mid-field if necessary – but how often do you think Billy Bremner and Alan Ball would need them?

This team will cause a few arguments, but no one could deny its great potential. Each year the Awards will bring together, if only on paper, the very best of British footballing talent. Just imagine this year's team playing Brazil. There would not be a stadium in the world large enough to do them justice.

ROTHMANS GOLDEN BOOTS AWARD

GORDON BANKS (Stoke City and England)

Pele stood unbelievingly, hands raised high. Then he lowered them to applaud. He had just witnessed perhaps the greatest goalkeeping save of all time. It was during the Brazil–England game at Guadalajara in the Mexico '70 World Cup. Committed to his dive at a rocketing Pele header, Banks twisted in mid-air as the ball shot off the fast turf, and flicked the ball up and over the bar. Small wonder that Pele embraced him as 'the world's greatest goalkeeper'.

Banks has been the integral part of Ramsey's defence almost since the Manager took over. He is Mr. Coolness; Ice Cold at Stoke, any simile you like to associate with this pleasant, happy, talented man. He has already gained a World Cup winners medal in 1966. Now, at 31, he is ready to carry on for another in Germany four years hence.

Epilogue to England, beaten by West Germany, was provided by Jack Charlton: 'In the bedroom where Gordon lies ill, lies England's World Cup.'

DAVID HAY (Celtic and Scotland)

Many people outside Glasgow can be forgiven for not having heard a great deal about the surprise selection in the Golden Boots team. The first time many saw David Hay in action was in the televised game against England last April. Taking stock at the end of a momentous first season Hay can reflect, it is not every young player who plays right back in the European Cup Final, starts his international career at inside left, and then becomes the main choice of the Sassenach press as the best No. 2 in Britain!

Now he joins the ranks of the great modern full backs who are able to overlap like a winger, and operate up and down like an inside forward.

MIKE ENGLAND (Tottenham Hotspur and Wales)

Mike England, the Welshman whose name causes confusion when he scores in an international match against England, is not everybody's choice as the main centre-back in the Golden Boots team.

Some will claim that he is a better player only when 'propped' up by Terry Hennessey in the Welsh team, or when he had Peter Collins alongside him in the Tottenham line-up. But whatever criticism is offered against this very fine and sporting professional, we are sure that he would jump at the chance of playing in a rearguard four with Bobby Moore!

It must be heart-breaking for a centre forward to play against England. He looks, and is, big. A fierce and accurate header of the ball, he also covers ground in the penalty area as if wearing seven league boots. And when he lopes upfield for corners and free kicks it usually takes two men to cover him.

BOBBY MOORE (West Ham United and England)

There are times when Bobby Moore looks almost too casual on the field. He is casual, but that is because his lightning football brain leaves the necessary body movement until the last fraction of a second. Like a computer, he takes in every possible variation of the action against him before committing himself to a tackle or a pass.

At one time Moore suffered from crowd criticism outside London just because he came from a London club. Now he is as popular in the North as amongst his own vociferous Cockney fans.

After his displays for England in Mexico Bobby Moore is recognised in many countries as the World's No 1 Footballer. He has immense skill and the hotter the situation, the cooler he looks.

He has become used to holding up the trophies at great events . . . Footballer of the Year; captain of England's World Cup winning team at Wembley; captain of West Ham when they won the European Cup Winners Cup, the FA Cup and the American Soccer Knock-out Cup in New York.

A model for all young – and old – players, he is our choice to captain the Rothmans Golden Boots Team, should it ever get mobile as a unit.

TERRY COOPER (Leeds United and England)

Terry Cooper is perhaps the most controversial choice of the whole team. For Johnstone proved that he can be beaten. So did the West German substitute after Cooper had outthought and outplayed the flying Libuda. Although he has speedily learned the new type full back technique, like many modern players he finds it difficult to re-adjust himself when an attacking winger comes at him. But he provides excitement and wonder with his brilliant dashes on the enemy goal.

Cooper was only one of three of the England squad to play in all four games in Mexico. He improved in ability and stature every time, and was the only man to smother the wing gallops of Jairzinho.

BILLY BREMNER (Leeds United and Scotland)

If you are shown a small red haired mid-field player and asked to guess his style of play, it's not difficult to give the right answer. The game has always had players of this type, with Alex Forbes and Tony Kay more recent examples. But if you are also told your player is Scottish, then your guess cannot be wrong, for the traditional characteristics of the redhead, and the footballer from over the border, make up the all-action fanatical, natural leader that has given so many Football League clubs that sought after 'will to win'.

Billy Bremner has been a stormy petrel (remember that famous picture of fellow but older Scot, Dave Mackay, shaking Billy back to order?) but although his fanatical driving power still inspires Leeds United he has developed into a mature and respected 'skipper'. A good enough sportsman and player to win the Footballer of the Year award by a record number of votes!

The choice for the mid-field positions was practically unanimous, and there's no doubt that 'Billy and Bally' would never surrender control of the match, let alone the centre of the field.

ALAN BALL (Everton and England)

Alan Ball's performance in the 1966 World Cup Final when he reduced the great Schnellinger to a hobbling wreck, will never be forgotten. But last season, Alan produced this non-stop style week in, week out to help his club, Everton, win the League championship. He is the perfect example of the modern 'all-purpose footballer', clearing from his own goalmouth one moment, shooting for goal the next, and like Bremner he is now using his fiery qualities to his club's advantage, and avoiding trouble with referees.

Like his partner in the 'Golden Boots' team, Alan is a footballer who makes others play. He is a driving force, and a fine example who plays only to win. It would be difficult to imagine a more devastating mid-field 'team'.

JIMMY JOHNSTONE (Celtic and Scotland)

The sight of a winger streaking down the wing, beating his full back, and centring for three other forwards is a rarity in modern football. So Jimmy Johnstone's performances for Celtic were welcomed with particular enthusiasm last season. He follows in a long line of tricky ball playing Scottish wingers, and is no doubt inspired more than most by the fine players around him. The way he tore poor Terry Cooper apart in the European Cup Semi-Final, thus ensuring double marking in the Cup Final against Feyenoord, stamped him as one of the game's top 'attractions'. When his side are under pressure he is quite capable of working in midfield but the thought of him in the 'Golden Boots' team centring to Ron Davies and Geoff Hurst would be enough to give any opposing defence nightmares, and ensure capacity attendances whereever they played.

RON DAVIES (Southampton and Wales)

The big occasion brings the best out of Ron Davies. England will confirm this after their last two matches against Wales, as will Manchester United and Chelsea who have conceded four goals apiece to the Southampton centre forward on their own grounds. His ability in the air is perhaps second to none in the First Division and there's no doubt that the Hampshire club would have little difficulty finding a buyer willing to pay £200,000 for him. His spectacular headed goals often tend to detract from his excellent ball control, which for a big man is surprisingly good under the severe pressure that the modern 'striker' has to endure.

GEOFF HURST (West Ham United and England)

Geoff Hurst will always be remembered for his World Cup Final hat-trick in 1966. He has had his fair share of glory but as one of the first of the modern 'strikers' who was forced to operate without wingers, Geoff has had to suffer frustrations that older centre forwards never faced. Packed defences, all possessing one or two limited but effective 'markers' make life a misery for front runners who usually have to 'hunt' in twos. Geoff has taken rough treatment on the field and criticism from the game's less perceptive critics, without resorting to any type of retaliation. He, like Ron Davies, has remained a fine example of the modern professional. His qualities as a player have never been questioned since he became an England regular in 1966 and the fact that he has withstood the pressures of four years at the top, in the game's hardest position, says all that needs to be said about his character.

GEORGE BEST (Manchester United and Northern Ireland)

No British eleven would be complete without George Best. He is fast becoming a legend in his own lifetime and has already carved his name into the record books of soccer.

A fabulous performer, whose object is to get on with the sorcery and goal scoring of his game, but unhappily whose temperament occasionally lets him down when his aims are roughly halted, by uncompromising defenders. He resents these assaults, and sometimes finds it too much to bear when referees fail to spot the offenders.

No British player can compare with George when he is on top form, while his wealth and 'pop star' image has given professional football a new standing in the eyes of the teenage fans.

Playing in this Golden Boots side, George would be in his element and no doubt would add the final flamboyant moments of sheer class to the two million pounds worth of talent on show.

ENGLISH LEAGUE CLUBS

The Football League Club section of 184 pages consists of the most comprehensive details ever compiled. Full F.A. Cup, Football League Cup, and European Competitions details will be found elsewhere in the book. All transfer fees shown are approximate, as clubs do not disclose exact fees.

Entrance charges are not shown individually on club pages as the minimum price has been raised to six shillings for all clubs.

On the players pages many transfers will of course occur after the book goes to print, but each year the records will be updated and goals listed. Appearances refer to League matches unless otherwise stated. Apprentice professionals have not been included.

The 'total' goals, appearances and substitutes columns include the 1969–70 figures, and we are sure that this unique section will be of particular interest to everyone connected with football.

RECORD FINES

On Monday, May 4, 1970, the Football League Management Committee announced that they had fined Leeds U. the record amount of £5,000, 'for playing a reserve team in a First Division fixture at Derby on Easter Monday'.

The £5,000 was £3,000 more than that imposed against Everton in 1966 for a similar offence, and five times the amount of the fine imposed on Burnley in 1961 when they played ten reserves against Chelsea.

This is how the 'penal' list has grown for playing weak teams:

£250 on Arsenal, June 1936;

£750 on Newcastle U., May 1924;

£1,000 on Burnley, March 1961;

£2,000 on Everton, April 1966;

£5,000 on Leeds U., May 1970.

Fines for other offences include:

£5,000 on Sunderland, together with suspensions in season 1956–57, for 'illegal payments';

£2,000 on Leyton O., in 1957–58, for alleged irregularities;

£2,000 on Port Vale (by Football League) and expelled from League for illegal payments. They were subsequently re-elected.

£2,000 on Port Vale, by Football Association, for the same offences.

£500 on Peterborough U., November 1967, and demoted from Third to Fourth Division, for illegal payments.

£5,000 on Manchester U.

£5,000 on Derby Co.

Final 1969–70: Manchester C. 2 W.B.A. 1

(At Wembley, 100,000, receipts £123,000, March 7, 1970)

Manchester C.: Corrigan; Book, Mann; Doyle, Booth, Oakes; Heslop, Bell, Summerbee, Lee, Pardoe (Sub. Bowyer).

W.B.A.: Osborne; Fraser, Wilson; Brown, Talbut, Kaye; Cantello, Suggett, Astle, Hartford, Hope (Sub. Krzywicki).

Scorers—Manchester City: Doyle, Pardoe. W.B.A.: Astle.

The Football League introduced their own Cup competition during the 1960–61 season.

At first it received a lukewarm reception from clubs and Press alike, and in the early years some of the more powerful clubs refrained from entering the competition.

But the League Cup has grown into a near rival of the longer established Football Association Cup, and entry is now almost a 'must' for the benefits which can accrue.

The money taken at the house full Wembley final in March 1970 was £123,000, only £5,000 short of the record sum taken at a Wembley F.A. Cup Final.

The winners of the Football League Cup automatically qualify for the Fairs Cup—but only if they are a First Division side.

EUROPEAN COMPETITIONS

The European Football Championship: Previously known as the 'European Nations Cup' may be entered by a European country. Preliminary group matches are played over a two-season period and the finals are held every four years. (Page 690.)

* The European Champions Cup: Sometimes known as the 'European Cup'. Is an annual competition for the clubs who finished as champions of their country's leading football league the previous season. All rounds before the final are played on a two-legged basis. (Page 697.)

* The European Cup Winners Cup: Is an annual competition between the winners of the National Cups of the European Countries. All ties before the final are played on a two-legged basis. (Page 707.)

* The European Fairs Cup: Was originally played over a two-year period between towns and cities who annually staged a Trade Fair or Major Exhibition. Now the entrants must be nominated by the Association or senior league of their country, and must be a First Division club. The winners of the Football League Cup (if in the First Division) automatically qualify. All ties including the Cup Final are played on a two-legged basis.

The Anglo Italian League Cup Winners Cup: Was originated to give Swindon Town (Second Division Winners of the Football League Cup) a chance of competing in Europe, and is described below.

The Anglo Italian Knock Out Cup: Three groups of four clubs (two from the Football League, two from the Italian League) play each other on an home and away basis. Apart from the nominal points system, each goal is worth a point. The Final is played between the most successful clubs from the two countries. English Clubs are invited to enter by the Football League. (Page 692.)

The British Isles Cup: Is a new competition for six English clubs (Burnley, Nottingham F., Wolverhampton W. and Stoke C. have accepted an invitation to enter at the time of going to press, while Arsenal and Tottenham H. have yet to decide), six Scottish League clubs (Kilmarnock, Dundee, Morton, Dunfermline, Motherwell, Hearts or Dundee U.) two from Northern Ireland (Derry Co. and Ards) and two from Southern Ireland (Limerick and Shamrock R.). The English and Scottish clubs play each other in the First Round as do the clubs from Northern and Southern Ireland. The Second Round will be drawn in such a way as to keep clubs from the same League apart if possible. All ties are on a two-legged basis. Clubs are invited to compete by their parent leagues.

The World Club Championship: Details on Page 689.

* In these three UEFA competitions goals scored away shall count double, and the same provision also applies during extra time (so far as such goals did not count twice when it was necessary to play extra time).

PENALTY KICKS WILL DECIDE

By a decision of the Committee of E.U.F.A. in May, new rules are to be introduced into the European competitions this season.

Any Cup game resulting in a tie after a play-off, including the Final, will be decided by a series of penalty kicks, starting with the player with the highest number of the side winning the toss, until one side is leading after an equal number of penalty kicks.

This rejects the decision to settle a tie by toss of a coin or disc.

In a case of a tie in the second leg after extra time, the goals scored by the visiting team will in future count double, even if scored in extra time. Only if the teams are still level after all this will they play a third game.

Helenio Herrera, manager of A.S. Roma, was suspended for 22 days by the Italian League disciplinary committee following an interview with an Italian sports paper in which he was quoted as saying that biased refereeing had 'stolen' several points from his team this season.

Jan van Beveran became the world's most expensive goalkeeper last May when he was transferred from Sparta, Rotterdam to P.S.V. Eindhoven in the Dutch first division. The fee was 1,500,000 guilders, approximately £175,000.

(The fee for van Beveran, who kept goal for Holland in the goalless draw with England at Wembley last January was made up as follows: a cheque for 800,000 guilders (£96,000); an exchange goalkeeper, valued at 200,000 guilders (£24,000); and a set of floodlights worth 500,000 guilders (£55,000).

Final 1959–60: Blackburn R. 0 Wolverhampton W. 3

The F.A. Cup has been won three times in succession twice. By Bolton W., 1876–7–8, and by Blackburn R., 1884–5–6.

* * *

The F.A. Cup has been won in consecutive years by four clubs: Bolton W., 1872 and 1873; Blackburn R., 1890 and 1891; Newcastle U., 1951 and 1952; Tottenham H., 1961 and 1962.

* * *

When the Wanderers won the Cup for three years running they were given the trophy as their own property. The club gave the Cup back, however, on the condition that it could never be won outright by any club in the future.

* * *

In 1887–88 W.B.A. were the first club to field an all English Cup Final team.

* * *

The only club to have won the F.A. Cup and F.A. Amateur Cup are the Old Carthusians (The Old Boys of Charterhouse School) who now compete in the Old Boys' League and enter the Arthur Dunn Cup.

* * *

The Cup has been won by a Second Division side on four occasions. 1894, Notts. Co. 1908, Wolverhampton W. 1912, Barnsley. 1931, W.B.A. Tottenham H. won the Cup while a member of the Southern League.

* * *

The original fifteen entrants for the F.A. Cup in 1871–72 were:

Barnes, Civil Service, Crystal Palace, Clapham Rovers, Donnington School (Spalding), Hampstead Heathens, Harrow Chequers, Hitchen, Maidenhead, Marlow, Queen's Park (Glasgow), Reigate Priory, Royal Engineers, Upton Park, and Wanderers.

CUP FOR THE MINNOWS

Last season the Football Association instituted the F.A. Challenge Trophy for the little clubs, entry being restricted to clubs in recognised minor leagues and amateur teams.

From the First Qualifying Round, in which 120 teams were paired, the season-long competition reached its finale at Wembley, when on May 2, a 28,000 crowd saw Macclesfield Town become the first winners of the F.A. Challenge Trophy.

CHANNEL ISLANDS SECTION

The 'Muratti' Competition is contested by Guernsey, Jersey, and Alderney each year, with the Final played on May 9, the Channel Islands' Liberation Day. The two larger islands take it in turns to play Alderney in a preliminary round, but only once has there been a major giant-killing performance; when Alderney won the trophy in 1920 by beating Guernsey 1 0.

The Record now stands at Guernsey 26 wins, Jersey 26 wins, Alderney one win and one title shared between Guernsey and Jersey. The competition was first introduced in 1905 and Jersey have never led Guernsey in total wins. The recent results have been:

The Fred Faragher Memorial Trophy for the Island's most sporting club was won by Marown.

Due to the number of end-of-season cup competitions and the Island's seasonal holiday trade, the I.O.M.F.A. do not force their clubs to complete their league fixtures providing the major issues of promotion, relegation and the championship have been decided.

THE WATNEY CUP

The Watney Cup was the first major act of match sponsorship that The Football League accepted.

Watneys have put up £82,000 for a knock-out competition to be played before the start of the League season between the two top scoring clubs in each division (excluding promoted clubs and those who have qualified for Europe).

Each competing club will receive £4,000 while the Football League and the Football Association share £50,000.

The draw is decided by the Top Scoring club in the First Division playing the Top Scoring club in the Third Division.

The second highest scorers in the First, playing the second highest scorers in the Third, with a similar arrangement for the qualifiers from the Second and Fourth Divisions.

Thus the draw for the 1970–71 season was:

First Round August 1, 1970

Reading (87 goals) (Div. 3 top scorers)	v	Manchester U. (66 goals) (Div. 1 top scorers)
Fulham (81 goals) (Div. 3 second top scorers)	v	Derby Co. (64 goals) (Div. 1 second top scorers)
Aldershot (78 goals) (Div. 4 top scorers)	v	Sheffield U. (73 goals) (Div. 2 top scorers)
Peterborough U. (77 goals) (Div. 4 second top scorers)	v	Hull C. (72 goals) (Div. 2 second top scorers)

The team scoring most goals last season is given home advantage in the First Round, but if the clubs agree the venue may be switched.

The Semi-Finals, to be played on August 5, 1970, are:

Peterborough U. or Hull C.	v	Reading or Manchester U.
Fulham or Derby Co.	v	Aldershot or Sheffield U.

(the Winners of this tie at home in Final)

The Watney Cup Final will be held on August 8, 1970.

If the scores are level after 90 minutes, 30 minutes extra time will be played, and if still level, a series of penalties will be taken alternatively by all eleven members of each side.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY KOP CHOIR CONTEST

This competition, to find the most original, wittiest and cleanest Kop songsters was launched at the start of last season. Individual members of terrace choirs were registered and the final list of clubs in the contest topped 50.

A short list of six clubs was chosen: Liverpool, Wolverhampton W., Southampton, Tottenham H., Rotherham U. and Newport Co. The choirs were filmed and shown on a Coleman Sportsnight programme on BBC. The judging panel of Alan Hardaker, Arsenal 'keeper Bob Wilson and referee Roger Kirkpatrick selected Rotherham U. as the best of the six. Registered members of the Rotherham U. choir travelled to Milan for the European Cup Final as part of their prize while the winning club received a Ford Car to raffle.

WHERE DOES ALL THE MONEY GO?

The F.A. Cup Final, on Saturday May 8th 1971, will produce the highest money taken at any Wembley match, except the World Cup Final in 1966.

THE WORLD CUP 1930–1970

The idea of a World Cup was discussed by Soccer Legislators for many years and it began as a desultory series of challenge matches between various countries. Not until Mr. Jules Rimet was appointed President of F.I.F.A. in 1914 was serious thought given to a proper World Championship.

Then came the war and the nations of the world were engaged in combat of a different sort.

In the middle twenties, Enrique Buero, a member of the Uruguayan Government who had travelled with his country's team for a match in Paris, met Mr. Rimet and agreed that if a World Competition could be organised, his country, Uruguay, would finance it.

So the great moment approached. In 1929 an organising Committee met in Barcelona and delegates from Spain, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Sweden and Uruguay talked of the coming World Cup. All seemed set, but it was not going to be as easy as that.

First the Netherlands and Sweden withdrew their requests to be hosts in favour of Italy. Then Spain, Hungary and Italy also withdrew their claims.

After a long series of wrangles, it was agreed that despite a partial boycott by some European countries, the first-ever World Cup would be held at Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1930.

The trophy, a figure of victory, holding in upraised arms an octagonal vessel in the form of a cup, made of solid gold and weighing less than nine pounds (4 kilograms), cost 50,000 francs.

Now it is insured for £30,000 but its value is incalculable, and its loss, when stolen in London in 1966, caused world wide sensation.

Before the 1970 World Cup, it was decided that if any one of the three countries, Italy, Uruguay or Brazil, who had each won the competition on two occasions, was successful, they would be given the trophy now. So Brazil retain it for ever, and a new trophy will be provided for 1974.

Of the 135 National Associations which are members of F.I.F.A., 70 countries played in 172 matches during the preliminary round of the World Cup. Among the 16 which qualified were 8 from Europe, 3 from South America, 1 from Central America, 1 from Africa and 1 from Asia. Plus of course, England, the defending Champions, and Mexico, the host country.

Here is the summary of the results and play-points of the 1970 World Cup, starting with the qualifying matches and working up to the games held at five venues in Mexico. Then follows details of the previous competitions.

This is how the first series ended:

WORLD CUP STATISTICS 1970

ENGLAND

England used 19 of their squad of 22 players at various times throughout four games. Only Alex Stepney, Nobby Stiles and Emlyn Hughes did not get a game.

Terry Cooper, Alan Mullery and the magnificent Bobby Moore, surely our outstanding player of the 1966 World Cup, played in all four games. Martin Peters missed joining them by the last 10 minutes and extra time in the German match in which Norman Hunter made his only appearance.

The total of four goals were shared by Geoff Hurst (v Rumania), Allan Clarke, penalty (against Czechoslovakia), Alan Mullery and Martin Peters (against Germany).

When Bobby Charlton played against Germany, he broke the record of 105 caps set up by Billy Wright. Here is the full record of England Squad:
